

Restoring Immunity: Gemmo Stories Ashley Dalme

When we allow ourselves the time to listen to human stories we learn a bit more about ourselves. And when we learn more about ourselves we grow. I love the way I learn and grow through each unique and intimate conversation about health and healing. I think you will discover the hero's journey, from fear to resilience, from challenge to triumph in each Gemmo Story episode.

Today I welcome Ashley Dalme, wife, mother of two school-aged children, elementary school art teacher, and Gemmo fan. Listen in to discover what fears Ashley has overcome and how she continues to grow as a healing force in her family.

State vs Story: Questions from our Audience

On this 6th episode of How We Heal, we are answering some questions from our audience on our topic of “State vs Story”. Tune in as we explore these questions on where we go after identifying our states and how we can actually use this to change our state and keep our nervous system from feeling unsafe.

State vs Story: Noticing Your State

In this episode of How We Heal, we touch on a topic from our last episode about State vs Story where we drop the story and we explore how we can identify our states when they are happening. Plus other practices on how we can tell our autonomic nervous system to pause and identify what is causing the state of discomfort or wellness using terminology from polyvagal theory.

State vs Story

Listen in on this episode of How We Heal as we explore the idea of your current state of being versus the story surrounding your state, or why the state is the way it is. Learn with us as we explore how we can truly understand the difference between the two when unsafe feelings occur in our autonomic nervous system.

Safety through Context, Choice & Connection

In this third episode of our #HowWeHeal #podcast, we explore the concepts of context, choice and connection, relating back to our discussions from our #polyvagaltheory recaps (see my channel's content for more on this). Listen in and explore with us on how polyvagal theory explains the “why” question we ask ourselves when we enter states of discomfort or danger.
