Why Gemmotherapy?

Gemmotherapy extracts are the only form of plant medicine I have encountered that are both strengthening and nutritive, while also supporting the movement of qi and blood that is essential for well-being.

This is how I believe we heal:

The nature of all life is constant movement and transformation. I believe we heal and come home to ourselves when we hone our ability to find and re-find our physical and emotional homeostasis, allowing life to flow through us and nurture us.
