

Practitioner Opportunities

Training

The world needs more healthcare practitioners using research based, results oriented natural protocols. And healthcare practitioners need quality tools that will help their patients/ clients clean and heal their bodies. Gemmotherapy with Lauren Hubele training resources offer exactly that. Each webinar consists of easy to follow video lectures and supplementary handouts. Practitioners of all levels are guided through this modern four stage approach that integrates Gemmotherapy, Homeopathy, and a Plant Based Diet. All participants are invited to an online moderated forum for questions and support.
