Why Gemmotherapy?

Gemmo-plant extracts nourish the body deeply and stimulate the regeneration of vital energy. These amazing extracts help release congestion and stagnation while supporting new growth and healing. Through engagement with plant extracts, clients learn how to support their nervous system alongside the emotional, mental, and physical body.

This is how I believe we heal:

Our good health and radiance grow and deepen in nature. Traditional cultures have always known how to access this well-spring of life. Today many of us are relearning how to re-align with our vitality. We heal when our observations lead to new awareness, understanding, and action.
